PROGRAM SET FOR TUESDAY NIGHT

Entertainment for Public to be Held at That Time Around Municipal Christmas Tree.

SANTA CLAUS TO BE PRESENT

Beautiful Decorations Have Been Purchased for the Event—Treat for the Children.

An Indianapolis playhouse is advertising a play under the title of "Tonight's the Night." Seymour has changed that slightly so it reads "Tuesday Night's the Night." In other words on next Tuesday, December 21, the big Christmas entertainment will take place around the Municipal Christmas tree which will be placed on Second street between Chestnut and Walnut street. The program will be given from a large platform to be built near the tree. It will consist of musical numbers, cornet solos and songs by the entire audience. The whole evening's program will ring with Christmas cheer and joy and every song and every feature will be suggestive of the Yuletide.

The committee in charge of the tree has arranged to have it brought here Thursday of this week. The decorating committee will then get busy and before many hours have been ticked off by the city clock hundreds of little electric light globes and other decorations will be in place. At the entrance of the block where the tree is to be stationed will be a large archway bearing the words, "Merry Christmas." The decorations for the tree have already arrived and are being arranged so they can be hung in a few hours.

Santa Claus will be present at the tree and will himself supervise the distribution of the treat. He will come in a sleigh and will stay with the crowd until every boy and girl present has been given a sack of candy and an orange. The sacks for the treat—two thousand of them—have been made by the various societies in the city. A ton of candy will be distributed around the tree. Over a mile of strung pop corn will be used in the decorations. Anyone who will assist in stringing the corn is asked to report to L. L. Bollinger, a member of the committee.

The teachers of the various schools have been asked to secure from their pupils the number of children in the various homes. The teachers will file their reports with the superintendent or grade principals and these in turn will file the estimates with the committee. As soon as the number is known tickets will be distributed to the children through the schools. Each ticket will be good for one sack of candy. By presenting the ticket the work of distributing the treat will be greatly simplified, it is thought, and there will be less danger of any girl or boy being overlooked.

Tuesday night was selected as the time for the entertainment as it was the most acceptable night of the week. Some of the Christmas entertainments at the churches are held on Christmas eve and Thursday night was objected to on account of other meetings that were planned. The various churches hold prayer meeting on Wednesday night and the committee decided that Tuesday night, while several days from Christmas, was the best night of the week. It is already known that there will be an immense crowd at the entertainment. Arrangements have been made to give the spectators the best accommodations possible.

HIGHWAY SUPERINTENDENT CALLS GOOD ROADS MEETING

Henry Price Invites Taxpayers and All Interested in Question to Attend Session December 3.

Henry Price, county highway superintendent, was in the city this afternoon and said that he had arranged for a good roads meeting to be held at the court house on December 23. At that time all the assistant superintendents in the county will be present and several matters of public interest will be discussed.

Mr. Price said that he desired a large number of taxpayers present at this meeting to take part in the discussion and to present their views concerning the problems to be considered. He declared that the roads throughout the county were in much better condition now than when he took charge of the office two years ago and after serving the county as highway superintendent for one term could suggest many changes that ought to be made for the benefit of the public roads.

GOVERNMENT THERMOMETER DROPS TO 18 DEGREES

Raw, Biting Wind Makes Early Hours Uncomfortable—Below Zero One Year Ago.

Although the government thermometer in charge of J. Thomas Hays, official weather observer, only recorded 18 degrees above zero, Seymour, today experienced one of the most uncomfortable days of the winter. The sun did its best to combat with the cold, raw atmosphere, but did not succeed until late in the morning and then not to the entire satisfaction of numerous people. Shoppers cloaked and overcoated from head to foot sought the shelter of the buildings as a protection against the biting wind which was accredited with causing the discomfort.

One year ago today the thermometer registered one degree below zero. Other temperatures were: December 15th, 12 below; 16th, 5 below; 17th, 9½ below; 18th, 7 above. During that period there were twelve inches of snow and on the 20th and 21st heavy sleet fell, making the roads almost impassable.

CHRISTMAS FUND IS DISTRIBUTED

Eight Hundred Checks Calling for $20,000 Sent Out by Jackson County Loan & Trust Co.

ENCOURAGES SAVING HABIT

Estimated That $15,000 Will be Spent Immediately with Local Merchants for Holiday Goods.

Christmas cheer of a most substantial kind was taken into about eight hundred local homes today by the city mail carriers when they distributed checks, aggregating $20,000, which had been sent out by the Jackson County Loan & Trust Company as a result of the Christmas Saving Club. The eight hundred people who received the checks radiated happiness and their expressions of supreme content made others wish that they had "something coming their way."

The checks were filled out by J. Price Matlock, secretary of the Trust Company, and mailed Monday night so they would be distributed on the morning mail delivery. As the word had gone out last week that the checks would be sent out soon the members of the saving club were expecting their arrival and many had planned in advance how they would spend the money.

J. H. Andrews, president of the company, stated today that he estimated that about seventy-five per cent. of the total amount or $15,000, would be spent with the local merchants for holiday goods while the balance would be used to start saving accounts or to increase the amounts that had already been saved. This estimate is based upon the amount that was expended last year and the conversation of the club members. Most of them volunteer information as to how they will use their money. One man, who had never saved money regularly before, carried two of the largest amounts throughout the year and when he brought his checks to the bank he said he wanted to open a saving account and hoped to increase the amount during the year. He also added that he expected to carry two cards next year as the money had been saved so easily that he had not missed it from his weekly wage envelop.

The local merchants declare that they noticed the effect of the distribution of the checks. Business has been good throughout the day and in several instances accounts have been paid with the checks. A number of husbands carried the fund throughout the year and turned over the checks to their wives for their Christmas shopping. The effect of the payment of the checks will be noticed from now until Christmas, it is believed, as many of those who received the Christmas checks will not be able to visit the stores before the latter part of the week.

Arrangements have already been made by the Trust Company to start another club the first of the year. The prospects now are that the number of members will be larger than ever before. The club has been growing in popularity since it was started two years ago, and the amount distributed this Christmas is much larger than one year ago.

SAYS POLITICS IS CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Prosecutor Mann of Delaware County Charges Republicans Are Back of Uprising.

OFFICIAL IS COMMENDED

Ralston Completely Vindicates Mann After Later's Statement at Meeting.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, December 14.—Governor Ralston today completely vindicated Prosecutor Frank Mann of Delaware county. He commended Mann in his stand for the enforcement of liquor laws. The stand of the governor was taken at a semi-public meeting when Mann in a quiet voice made some of the most sensational charges against members of the Muncie Law Enforcement League ever heard in the state house.

The substance of Mann's statement was that the Republicans had persuaded members of the League to take such action so as to discredit the Democratic administration among good people. He said he was the first Democrat ever elected prosecutor in Delaware county and the Republicans wanted to oust him.

After the governor has listened to Mann's story given in answer to a statement made to the governor yesterday by Thomas Patterson of Muncie, he said: "Your statement has the ring of frankness, and I have always understood you to be an honest man with the courage of your convictions. I have never heard anything else about you, Mr. Mann, until these charges were made and I was appealed to to assist in enforcing the law in Muncie."

Sensational statements were made by Mann. He called Judge Thompson of Muncie "sheep in wolf's clothing." He said when he told the police they must close a blind tiger the "operator of the suspected place paid an attorney $100 to oppose him (Mann) for prosecutor and himself ran for sheriff and was elected."

Mann said the people who had criticized him did so behind his back. Mann said he called the grand jurors "dirty scoundrels" to their faces.

Governor Ralston told Mann and Mayor Bunch to go back to Muncie, get in touch with the good people in whom they had faith and enforce the law. He said he and the attorney general were looking up the statutes and would decide later if a representative of the state could take a part in the impeachment proceedings.

BUCHANAN SEEKS THE IMPEACHMENT OF MARSHALL

Representative Charges New York District Attorney with Failure to Conduct Office Properly.

By United Press.

Washington, December 14.—Representative Frank Buchanan introduced a resolution today seeking the impeachment of H. Snowden Marshall, district attorney at New York, for misconduct in office. Buchanan charges Marshall among other things with failure to prosecute illegal shipping of explosives and slandering and defaming innocent people and with violation of the eight-hour law. Buchanan alleges Marshall has failed to prosecute gross and notorious violations of law by criminal trusts and monopolies in his district; that he had prostituted his office to the service of great criminal trusts, that he neglected and refused to prosecute men who made the port of New York a naval base for belligerents. Buchanan further warns against any further attempt against the use of political masters by Marshall to "whitewash" him and asks congress to interfere with any attempt of that nature. The resolution was referred to the judiciary committee.

HEAVY DAMAGE TO PROPERTY BY BLIZZARD IS REPORTED

New York and Eastern Railroads Begin This Afternoon to Move Snowbound Trains.

By United Press.

New York, December 14.—Gripped by one of the worst early blizzards in history, the entire Atlantic seaboard this afternoon was slowly recovering from delayed traffic and crippled communication following last night's storm.

Stalled railroad trains began making their way to eastern cities many hours behind time carrying cold and hungry passengers. Telegraph and telephone companies began repairing the destroyed lines of communication. Heavy property loss is reported.

G. O. P. CONVENTION TO BE HELD JUNE 7

Selection of Date is Made by Republican National Committee in Session Today.

CHICAGO MAY BE CHOSEN

Precedent is Smashed by Holding Convention Before That of Party in National Control.

(By Perry A. Arnold, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, December 14.—The Republican party will choose its national ticket at a convention to be held June 7. Chicago will probably be the choice of the national committee.

The choice of a convention date prior to the assembling of the Democratic host—was ratified with a vivi voce vote after the committee had turned down a vote to follow precedent and hold the convention after that of the party in control of the government.

It will mean a readjustment of the dates of the primaries in several states for choice of delegates—notably Maine and South Dakota. The vote on the early date was taken to mean that Chicago would be selected as the convention city. The vote on this question will come up about 5 o'clock according to indications when the committee recessed for luncheon.

ARTILLERY BATTLE WAGED ON SERBO-GREEK BORDER

Bulgarian Shells Fall on Greek Territory but no Damage of Consequence is Reported.

By United Press.

Athens, December 14.—The Athens newspapers announce that Greece will demobilize fifty per cent. of her troops under an agreement just entered into with the allies.

A violent artillery battle is being fought along the Serbo-Greek frontier according to dispatches received here today.

Bulgarian shells are falling on Greek territory but thus far have done no material damage to Greek property. Dispatches filed from frontier points late yesterday say no Bulgarian or Teutonic soldiers had crossed the Greek frontier but before many hours it is believed the pursuit of the retreating Anglo-French forces will be begun and fighting resumed.

MINISTER ON TRIAL MAKES INSANITY PLEA

F. B. Clifton Charged With Stealing Automobile—Jury Obtained at Noon Today.

By United Press.

Crawfordsville, Ind., December 14.—A jury was obtained at noon today to try F. Benjamin Clifton, former minister, who is charged with stealing an automobile. Seven of the jurors are not church members. The defendant pleaded not guilty and a special plea of insanity was entered for him. The prosecutor in his opening address said that Clifton was guilty and was not suffering from insanity.

EXPLANATION OF NEW PRIMARY LAW

Candidates for Governor and United States Senators to File Petitions Before January 7.

ELECTION IS HELD MARCH 7

Other Sections Provide for Filing of Petitions by Candidates for County Offices.

Indianapolis, Ind., December 14.—Many probable candidates who intend to go before the primaries March 7th are uncertain concerning the provisions of the new primary law. They don't know when to file their petitions nor what fee is required. Because of this, and because incorrect outlines of the law have been widely published, the United Press today interviewed John A. Lapp, director of the state bureau of legislative information, and obtained from him an authoritative statement concerning the law.

The law has yet to stand the test of the supreme court as to its constitutionality. Oral arguments in a test case will be heard tomorrow.

All candidates for governor and United States senator and a few others must file their petitions on or before January 7, according to Lapp. Other state candidates file at a later date. This distinction has not been generally understood.

Lapp brought out the following information: Every candidate for president, vice-president, governor, United States senator and all candidates for congressional, legislative, county, township, and judicial offices of any political party which cast ten per cent. of the votes at the last election (the democratic, republican and progressive parties) must be nominated at the primary March 7, 1916.

A candidate for president, vice-president, governor or United States senator must file a petition at least sixty days before the primary (on or before January 7) signed by at least 500 voters, asking that his name be printed on the ballot. A receipt from the treasurer of the state must accompany the petition showing that the fee of $100 shall be paid.

A candidate for congress, the legislature or county, township or judicial office must file a declaration at least thirty days before the primary (between January 7 and February 6) that he is a candidate for office and giving his name, residence, political party and requesting that his name be placed upon the official ballot. Under this provision no petition may be filed before January 7 nor after February 6.

The petitions for candidates for president, vice-president, governor, United States senator, members of the national house of representatives, members of the general assembly and judicial offices must be filed with the secretary of state. Candidates for county, township offices or for members of the county committee must file with the clerk of the circuit court of the county.

Fees shall be paid as follows: Candidates for president, vice-president, governor, United States senator, $100.

Candidates for offices with a salary of more than $100 a year, one per cent. of the yearly salary. Candidates for offices paying less than $100 a year, a fee of $1.

When the compensation for the office is paid by fees, the candidate pays one per cent. of the amount of the fees on the basis of the year preceding the primary for which a report of fees is available.

In the cases of candidates for president, vice-president, governor and United States senator, the fee must be paid at least sixty days before the primary. In other cases the fees must be paid at least thirty days prior to the primary. Candidates for county councilman, the township advisory board and precinct committeemen are exempt from any fee.

No statement is found in the law concerning prosecuting attorneys. Evidently through an oversight, said Lapp, this office was not included.

Delegates to the state conventions are elected at the primary. Petitions for candidates for delegate must be filed at least twenty days before the primary (on or before February 16). To get a name on the ballot for delegates ten legal voters must sign a petition with the clerk of the circuit court giving the party, territorial unit and the convention for which the delegate is nominated. One of the ten petitioners must sign an affidavit that he is a member of the party and voted at the last preceding election and that he will support a majority of the party's candidates at the next election, and that he believes these same facts are true of the candidate for delegate.

No fee is required for filing petitions for delegates.

Why You Should Use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Because it has an established reputation won by its good works.

Because it is most esteemed by those who have used it for many years, as occasion required, and are best acquainted with its good qualities.

Because it loosens and relieves a cold and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition.

Because it does not contain opium or any other narcotic.

Because it is within the reach of all. It only costs a quarter. Obtainable everywhere.

EMERGENCY RESOURCES.

With a hostile legislature refusing funds, the wisdom of the War Governor's resourceful and business-like administration was made manifest. The state arsenal had been so ably and profitably managed that there was a surplus on hand which was placed at the disposal of the governor. Popular confidence in Morton was amply attested. Counties made appropriation for state expenses, sums were advanced by private bankers and corporations. In Wayne county, his home, one hundred of his friends signed a note for $20,000 and sent him the money. Thus, with some help from the National Government, was Morton enabled to keep things going in defiance of opposition.

One hundred calling cards, single line, for 50c. Republican Office.

Notice to Contractors.

State of Indiana, Jackson county, ss: Notice is hereby given that the board of commissioners of said county, at their office in the court house at Brownstown, Indiana, will receive sealed proposals on form 10, prescribed by the State Board of Accounts, for the following in accordance with the specifications, plans and profile now on file in the office of the auditor of said county, by and under the laws of the State of Indiana:

For a Piling Timber Dyke at the South Bank of White River near the Medora River Bridge.

Said sealed proposals will be opened and the contract awarded for said improvement on the 3rd day of January, 1916, at 1:30 p. m.

Bids shall include all labor and material for said work. In no case will extra compensation be allowed for any additional work alleged to have been done by the contractor or contractors to whom is awarded the contract.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a personal or surety bond in a sum equal to the amount of the bid filed for the work bid on, to be approved by the board of commissioners of said county. Said bond shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of the work; the sureties, if personal, shall be resident freeholders of the State of Indiana, one of whom shall be a resident of Jackson county.

Said improvement will be let to the lowest responsible bidder upon affidavit of noncollusion, which must be submitted with the bid, and upon failure to submit such affidavit such proposal or bid will be rejected by the board; and the board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Time for the completion of said work will be agreed upon after the letting of said contract by said board of commissioners and successful bidder. Given by order of the Board of Commissioners of said County.

ALBERT LUEDTKE,
Auditor Jackson County.

THRIFT.
Thrift is the art of making the best use of what we have. It is the genius for saving—for buying wisely. And the basis of thrift is knowledge. It means the ability to rate a dollar at its true value, to buy the right thing at the right time and pay the lowest price. People with the thrift sense get full value out of their newspaper by making full use of the information in the advertising. They know the market before they shop.

STRANGER SURPRISED AT THE BUILDING BOOM HERE

Said Activity in All Parts of the City
"Beats Anything He Has Seen in Indiana."

"This city beats anything I've seen in Indiana," declared a visitor today as he was waiting at the B. & O. Southwestern passenger station for a westbound train. "My work takes me to all parts of the city and I was surprised to find that so many houses are being erected and remodeled. Why, it just seemed to me that every fifth or sixth house was in the hands of the carpenters and brick masons. Such a condition certainly looks good to me when I visit other cities in the state and find them almost at a standstill.

"I had heard that Seymour was booming," continued the visitor "but I had no idea that so much work was under construction. Seymour must have some mighty good factories and there is bound to be a spirit of co-operation here. It is evident that most of the homes here are owned by the people who occupy them. That is plain from the manner in which the lawns and the buildings are kept." Every day similar remarks are heard from traveling men and visitors who visit Seymour. The building boom has continued from early spring and the indications are very encouraging that it will continue throughout the coming summer. Contracts have been awarded for a number of new residences and several have already been started and cannot be completed until spring weather sets in. With the various factories opening up with a full force of workmen employed the prospects are most encouraging for a busy 1916.

PECAN TREES MAY BE PROFITABLE IN INDIANA

Number of Farmers in This County
Considering Advisability of Setting Out Groves.

Recently it has been shown that pecans can be grown with profit in this section of Indiana and a number of Jackson county farmers are thinking of setting out small groves as an experiment. There is a good market for the nuts and the price has been good for several years. Pecan groves are found in the extreme southern section of Indiana and in northern Kentucky and the growers find the crop profitable.

It is stated that the trees will mature with comparatively little attention and that an average crop is assured. It is pointed out that as pecan trees are not found in great numbers in this part of the state they would be free from many insects which would be free from many insects that nuts. The matter was recently taken up in detail at a horticultural meeting and it was believed that a new and profitable source of revenue was awaiting development.

DECISION IS EXPECTED SHORTLY AFTER NEW YEAR

This Guess of Men Interested in Appeal of Donn M. Roberts and Ten Others.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, December 14—Men interested in the appeal of Donn M. Roberts and ten other Terre Haute men attacking the indictment which started them towards the Leavenworth prison hazarded the guess today that the circuit court of appeals in Chicago will give its decision shortly after the New Year.

Probably the most tangible reason given for this belief was that the appeal in the dynamite conspiracy case reached the circuit court of appeals about the time in the year that the election conspiracy appeal reached that court, and the court decided the dynamite appeal shortly after the New Year.

It is not generally known that the appellants have conceded the jurisdiction of the federal court, and that this appeal is based on a technicality. The convicted conspiracy allege that the indictment is faulty in that the offenses alleged were committed against men who had not registered as voters. District Attorney Dailey has contended this does not apply because the offenses were committed before it was possible for the victims to register.

FEDERAL REPORT NAMES SEYMOUR

Bureau of Education Makes Survey of How School Buildings Are Used.

ORGANIZATION WORK HERE

This City is Mentioned Among List
Having Parent-Teachers' Association With Schools.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The federal bureau of education has been making a study of the wider use of school buildings in Indiana and other states. The purpose of the investigation is summarized in the report as follows: "It is a matter of common observation that school properties throughout the country are being increasingly used outside of the regular class hours, but how many cities are thus utilizing their schools, how many schools in each of these cities have the wider use, how continuous it is and what it consists of in these various schools—upon these points no accurate information has been available. To assemble such information as could be obtained upon these points was the object of this inquiry."

The investigation showed the following range of miscellaneous purposes to which school buildings in Indiana are devoted:

Bloomington—Religious and political use.

Crawfordsville—Community use of high school.

Ft. Wayne—Meetings, gymnasium classes, night school.

Gary—Night citizenship course.

Huntington—Club work, high school.

Lafayette—Polling place, political meetings, are exhibits.

Mt. Vernon—Musical entertainments.

Muncie—Women's vocational night school.

Noblesville—Entertainments.

Richmond—School are gallery.

Seymour—Club and organization meetings.

South Bend—Civic meetings.

Sullivan—School and club meetings and entertainments.

Washington—Many social functions in high school.

Lecture courses are given in school buildings in the following Indiana cities: Clinton, Hammond, Huntington, Marion, Michigan City, Mt. Vernon, Richmond, Washington and Whiting.

In the following Indiana cities school buildings are used as social centers: East Chicago, Evansville, Gary, Madison, Marion, Michigan City, Richmond and South Bend.

Parent-teacher associations exist in connection with the schools at Anderson, Crawfordsville, Evansville, Ft. Wayne, Frankfort, Hammond, Huntington, Jeffersonville, New Albany, Noblesville, Seymour and South Bend.

The following Indiana cities have playgrounds for the school children in connection with the schools: Bloomington, Brazil, Connersville, Crawfordsville, East Chicago, Evansville, Ft. Wayne, Gary, Hammond, Huntington, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Laporte, Marion, Michigan City, Muncie and Seymour.

Only three cities in the state have vacation schools. They are Gary, Indianapolis and South Bend. Mt. Vernon is the only Indiana city that has a Chautauqua annex to its school system.

The bureau of education finds an increasingly tolerant spirit manifested in the schools. As an illustration a rule adopted by the school board in Long Branch, N. J., after opening of a new building as follows:

"It shall be open to all meetings of citizens for the discussion of public questions intended to benefit the city: for meetings of civic clubs; for meetings of associations of unrestricted membership, whose object is improvement or public welfare, as woman's clubs, choral societies, etc.; for entertainment and lectures to which the public is admitted free, or of which, if admission is charged, the proceeds are for the benefit of the general public."

Commenting on the difficulties which may result from such a wide grant of privileges, the report says:

"The difficulty inherent in applying such a hospitable rule is that of making certain that public motives predominate over private motives in the purpose of the group desiring to use the buildings. A solution of this problem which is widely favored in the requirement of unrestricted membership already mentioned in the Long Branch rule. Wisconsin, California, Indiana and Maryland have made it obligatory by legislative enactment upon school boards to grant the privileges of school edifices to all non-partisan, nonsectarian and non-exclusive organizations without cost.

"Of course," continues the report "Every evening opening of a school-house does cause additional expense to somebody. The janitor's good nature will cover a slight margin of extra work, but its limits are very quickly found. The contingent fund or some margin in the general maintenance appropriation ordinarily gives a school board a certain amount of leeway in supplies of gas, electricity, or coal."

The bureau of education sees no reason to fear that unworthy organizations will take advantage of the wider use granted of school buildings.

"As a rule," it says, "all group life whose inner workings will bear wide publicity meets wholesome human needs. There may be classes in pocket picking and crude conferences among gamblers, but they are not advertised in the public press. There may be gangs of burglars and panders, but they avoid the limelight. One does not read of the annual meeting of the association of embezzlers, but the newspapers are full of the congresses and gatherings of all socially healthful bodies. It might, indeed, be laid down as a principle that the higher the approbation a group believes it is entitled to receive from society the more confidently it will publish its meetings and doings."

Summing up the great advantages to be gained by using the vast equipment of school accommodations during periods of popular leisure, outside of school hours, the bureau points to the following possible results:

1. Purveying beneficial amusements to those who are prevented by fatigue from engaging in active play and who otherwise might receive their satisfaction at the hands of unscrupulous vendors.

2. Stimulating the growth of those groups which are capable of self-organization and government by furnishing both quarters and leadership.

"In these ways," concludes the report, "public education is extending its distinctive function of improving human society. That this work will undergo still greater and more systematic extension is clearly foreshadowed by the trend of present developments and the persistency of the forces behind them."

NEW YORK AND EAST COAST IN GRIP OF SNOW STORM

Trains are Stalled in Drifts and Wire Communication Interrupted by Terrific Storm.

By United Press.

New York, December 14.—New York and the entire east coast awoke today storm bound. Trains were stalled in snow drifts and wire communications interrupted. Little relief was foreseen during the morning by the weather bureau and it was predicted that the day would bring northwest gales, more snow and a decided drop in temperature.

The New York Central has no word from any point outside of Manhattan regarding trains from Chicago or other points except that one local train from Albany had become stalled. All New York trains were snow-bound or stalled enroute.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

DINNER PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Miller entertained at twelve o'clock dinner Sunday at their home east of the city in honor of Master William A. Miller, it being his eighth birthday. A three course dinner was served. A huge dish of pop-corn balls graced the center of the table. The ends of the ribbons leading from the place cards were concealed under the table center piece. After dinner Master William was asked to count three and the guests asked to "pull" and little favors of stockings filled with salted peanuts, which were concealed under the dish of popcorn, were received. Instead of having his younger associates at his birthday celebration his guests were older people who are very close friends of William. They were: Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Schruoff, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller and family, Miss Elizabeth Stradtman and Charles Hemmer.

SEVENTY-EIGHTH BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. Tipton Spencer is quietly celebrating her seventy-eighth birthday anniversary today at her home on High street. She has been a resident of Seymour for a number of years and has many friends here who extend her congratulations.

LOYAL DEVOIR SOCIETY.

The Loyal Devoir Society will meet this evening with Miss Belva Reynolds, West Second street. There will be an election of officers.

Shareholders' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the First National Bank of Seymour, Indiana, for the election of directors and the transaction of such other business that may come before them, will be held at the office of said bank on Tuesday, January 11, 1916, at 10 o'clock a. m.

TO MAKE AND
KEEP ROADS DRYGood Drainage For Earth and Gravel Highways.

DRAG AFTER EACH RAIN.

Ruts Should Be Kept Filled and the Road Crowned With a Slope Toward the Side Ditches of From Three-fourths to One Inch to the Foot. Keep Side Ditches Clean.

Water plus clay or ordinary earth, when mixed, invariably forms mud. On ordinary earth roads the rains and melting snow furnish the water and the passing traffic the mixing, and the result is muddy roads. Take away the water or prevent it from mixing with the clay or earth on the road surface and little or no mud will result. In other words, keep your road dry if you wish it to remain hard, smooth and free from mud.

Except in very sandy or arid regions good drainage is the cardinal principle in the maintenance of earth and gravel roads. Get the water away from the road as quickly and completely as possible. Water naturally seeks the lowest level. You cannot keep the water from falling on the road, but you can assist its natural inclination to get away to a lower level. Keep the ruts filled and the road crowned with a slope toward the side ditches of from three-fourths to one inch to the foot, and the water will not collect on the road and soak in and be mixed to mud by passing traffic. Keep the side ditches clean and with frequent outlets to get the water away from the road entirely. Do not let the culverts clog up or material accumulate in the ditches and hold back pools of water to soak into and soften the foundation of your road. Water is an enemy that will run away if you give it a chance. Do not neglect to give it every chance.

Like most other enemies, water is not very destructive or dangerous until it collects in force. Therefore get the water away from your road at every available opportunity and before it has time to collect in sufficient volume to be dangerous to the road, and do not invite certain disaster by making your culverts too small to care for the largest possible storm. Furthermore, build the culverts so that the water will of necessity flow through them and not find a way around or beneath them. Properly designed substantial wing and end walls are the fortifications which protect the culvert from attack and destruction during severe storms. Do not build dry weather culverts; build them with a view to caring for and protecting the road during the worst possible storms.

Make your road dry, build it hard and compact with a crown sufficient to shed water rapidly to the side ditches and with ample culverts and drains. To keep your road dry maintain the drainage in good condition. Drag your roads after each rain. Dragging fills in the ruts, smooths the surface and maintains the crown. On a road which has been properly dragged the rain finds no place to collect and soak into and soften the surface. Unless the rain is of long duration the surface is softened but very little. As soon as the rain has ceased and the road surface dried so that the clay is not sticky, but while it is still plastic, drag the road again. Any depression or ruts which have been formed during and after the rain are thus filled and the surface smoothed up and plastered over with a thin plaster of clay or earth which packs and becomes very hard under passing traffic. Therefore in order to make and keep your road dry first provide for good drainage and then maintain the good drainage by systematic dragging after each rain. Diligent attention to these points will in general insure an earth road fairly passable at all times and very good most of the time.—Southern Good Roads.

Remarkable System of Concrete Roads.

Wayne county, in Michigan, has the most remarkable system of concrete roads in the United States. Their construction began about seven years ago. The value of farm lands has in many instances more than doubled. Farmers who formerly required four horses to transport their produce to town now use one horse. Where trips to market formerly occupied an entire day, or perhaps two, the journey is now made in a few hours. These roads radiate like the spokes of a wheel with Detroit as their center. The great department stores of the city deliver merchandise over a wide area, going now into what were formerly remote rural districts. In brief, many of these farms, in so far as easy access to the city is concerned, have become suburban properties. The average maintenance on concrete roads sixteen feet wide has been less than $30 per mile per year, and in the case of a concrete road built in Bellefontaine, O., more than twenty years ago, a road subject to constant use since that time, the average repair charges have been less than $25 per mile per year.

PART OF PREPAREDNESS.

Several States Urge Upon Congress Need For Military Highways.

That military preparedness for defense includes extensive road construction, viewed from the standpoint of the country as a whole, is made apparent in sentiment which comes from the Atlantic seacoast, the Pacific slope and even the gulf of Mexico.

Recently the Alabama legislature unanimously passed a joint resolution, prepared by John Craft of the state highway department and assented to by Governor Henderson, which calls upon the president and congress of the United States "to take such steps as their wisdom appear to be most expedient to bring about at the earliest possible moment the construction of a national system of good roads." It is set forth in the preamble that "a great war now being waged in Europe demonstrates that a national system of good roads is essential to the successful protection of a country in the event of war."

At the recent pan-American roads congress in Oakland, Cal., among the resolutions adopted was one in which the congress recommended "to the congress of the United States the advisability of investigating the necessity of building a hard surface highway along the Pacific ocean side from Mexico to British Columbia and other national highways to be used as military and commercial highways."

Earlier in the year, at a meeting of the Maine Automobile association, the chairman of the state highway commission contended that the first federal money spent in that state should be in connection with a system of roads paralleling the coast, to serve particularly in case of military necessity. At a meeting of the executive board of the American Automobile association, with President John A. Wilson presiding, a resolution was passed, at the suggestion of Chairman Diehl of its national good roads board, "that the A. A. A. respectfully asks congress, in its consideration of federal aid in good roads to the several states, to bear in mind that highways constructed in seacoast and border states should possess a relationship to the military preparedness of the country which is demanding such widespread attention."

The state and local clubs of the American Automobile association are calling to the attention of their representatives in congress this action of the national automobile body and also asking that a bill shall be passed providing for an annual federal appropriation, divided among the several states on the basis of area, population and road mileage, to be supplemented by a like amount of money from the states and the total to be expended on post and military roads, selected through the co-operation of the respective state highway departments.

Concrete Roads.

California has built 800 miles of concrete roads during the last three years. And New York state ranks second. They are also being laid extensively in Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa. The cost per mile for a fifteen foot road is about $7,750.

Prominent Brownstown Man Passes Away This Afternoon—Was Stricken Sunday.

J. B. Burrell, aged sixty-four, a well known resident of Brownstown, died at 3:20 o'clock this afternoon after a short illness with heart trouble. He was stricken Sunday and had been in a critical condition until his death. Mrs. Burrell died two weeks ago Saturday after an extended illness.

Since the death of his wife Mr. Burrell had been living with his only daughter, Mrs. Jos. Robertson, of Brownstown. He was a prominent and successful business man and served until recently as a member of the county council. Arrangements for the funeral had not been arranged this afternoon.

SENIORITY RULE FOLLOWED BY HOUSE ORGANIZATION

Independent Republicans and Bull Moose Members Treated Liberally in Appointments.

By United Press.
Washington, December 14.—Independent Republicans and Bull Moose members were treated liberally by the Republican house organization in committee appointments announced today by Leader Mann. The rule of seniority was followed pretty consistently exceptions being made in the cases of Cannon, Longworth, E. J. Hill and a few other "comebacks," who were restored to former favored committees.

Cannon was returned to appropriations and made sixth on the Republican list. Hill and Longworth were placed on the ways and means committee.

Announcements have been received here of the arrival of a daughter to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ackerman, of Carmi, Ill., Dec. 12.

A son was born December 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clow, East Laurel street.

JAMES E. WATSON

CANDIDATE FOR THE REPUBLICAN NOMINATION FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM INDIANA

Reasons Why James E. Watson Should be Nominated for United States Senator

It is conceded by all that the main and vital issue between the Republican party and the Democratic party in the political campaign of 1916 will be the Tariff. By it the party must stand or fall.

This being the situation it is essential that the party leadership shall be made up of men who have the ability to maintain the party's position before the voters.

It is conceded that James E. Watson more nearly typifies the Protective Tariff idea, which will be the settled policy of the Republican party, than any other living man. This is an admitted fact, not only in Indiana, but in every other state of the American union.

Watson Embodies Protective Tariff.

The matter of the nomination of a Republican candidate for United States Senator from Indiana, therefore, is more than a question involving only the State of Indiana. It is nation-wide in its importance, because if the Republicans of Indiana do not accept the man who is recognized the country over as the one best equipped to lead the fight in the national congress for a Protective Tariff, the rejection of him would be taken, by implication, as a repudiation by Indiana Republicans of the Protective Tariff issue before it has been properly placed before the nation.

This is something which should give the Republicans of Indiana pause. If the Republicans of Indiana should not approve Mr. Watson as a senatorial candidate, it would not be Mr. Watson only who is rebuffed. It would be the great principle of political economy which Mr. Watson most directly represents that would be put aside. These are plain words. But they are true. If James E. Watson is discarded as the leader of the mighty contest to have a Tariff based on the policy of Protection, then who is there to take his place? Here rests a responsibility upon the voters of Indiana that may not be brushed away.

Men Must Typify Principles.

It is not simply the election of men to office which should be our first thought but election of men to office who represent the things the Republican party stands for, men who can espouse and defend these fundamental principles in the forum.

Democratic politicians and democrats who hold or who are seeking office, are not pleased with James E. Watson. But men in the Democratic party now who are eager to vote to restore the Protective Tariff do have confidence in him and they are giving him daily assurances of this confidence. Likewise, men now Republicans who for a brief period were attached to the Progressive party are assuring him by thousands that they are desirous of following his leadership.

Watson's Experience in Congress.

What these men want is some one in the national Senate who knows and who can do. Watson knows how. For ten years he was a member of the National House of Representatives. He was one of the recognized leaders of that great legislative body. No greater proof of his ability and influence as a National Legislator need be mentioned than the fact that he was a Member of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, the Committee on Naval Affairs, and the fact that he was chosen by his Republican colleagues for four successive terms as Whip of the House.

Mr. Watson is prepared now. With him in the Senate, Indiana would at once take the lead in national legislation. His ability, experience and efficiency form an asset for service in the United States Senate that the Republican party of Indiana can not afford to dispense with.—Adv.

HINTS FOR THE BUSY HOUSEWIFE

Clothes Prop That Securely Hooks to the Rope.

A clothes prop which will not desert its job and allow the clean clothes to flop to the ground under the influence of a passing breeze has been recently invented by a Connecticut genius. Instead of the usual forked end made to receive the clothesline, the new prop has a round aperture near the end with a slot leading downward from it to the edge of the prop. A finger of spring metal guards this slot so that when the rope has been slipped by it into position for supporting the line it cannot become freed accidentally, but when it is desired to take the prop off the line it may be readily done by pressing the metal down with the finger and allowing the rope to pass through the slot.

Cider Mince-meat.

Mix together three pints of pared and chopped apples and three pints of chopped green tomatoes (peeled). Let stand for four hours and drain thoroughly; then add four cupfuls of brown sugar, half a cupful of vinegar, a large cupful of boiled cider, three cupfuls of seeded raisins, three teaspoonfuls of ground cinnamon, half a teaspoonful of ground cloves, two teaspoonfuls of salt and three-quarters of a teaspoonful each of ground mace and allspice. Place the ingredients when well mixed in a preserving kettle, bring slowly to the boil and simmer for two hours. Add three-quarters of a cupful of butter, stir until it is dissolved and turn into glass preserving jars.

Mulled Cider.

This old fashioned beverage was a decided favorite in colonial days. It is an excellent mild tonic and warranted to break up a cold if sipped boiling hot just before retiring. Beat three eggs well and add just enough sugar to tone down the slight acidity of the cider that is to be used. Boil one quart of cider for five minutes, then pour it slowly upon the eggs and stir briskly. Return to the saucepan, heat again almost to the boiling point, pour into thick glasses and dust the tops with grated nutmeg.

Minced Chicken.

Put into a saucepan one tablespoonful of butter, one gill of stock and two tablespoonfuls of stale breadcrumbs and stir until boiling. Then add one pint of cold chicken, chopped fine; a tablespoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and a teaspoonful of chopped parsley. Remove from the fire and add two well beaten eggs; fill into small greased molds, stand in hot water and cook in the oven fifteen minutes. Serve hot with a cream sauce made from rich milk, thickened to the consistency of cream.

Chicken With Biscuit Dumplings.

Clean carefully and disjoint a good fat hen. Cook until flesh is very tender by boiling slowly. Remove the bones, slightly thicken the broth and put all into a baking pan or milk pan. Make a good rich biscuit dough, roll thin and cut with small cutter. Have chicken very hot and cover the top with the biscuit, bake in a quick oven until biscuits are well baked and brown. Serve in the dish in which it is baked.

Jelly Sauce For Lamb.

Make a sauce by browning two tablespoonfuls of butter, working three tablespoonfuls of flour into it until smooth and adding slowly a cupful of stock. Season with salt and pepper and a third cupful of currant jelly. When the jelly is melted add six large slices of cold cooked lamb and serve when the meat is well heated through. Cold boiled mutton may be used to great advantage in the same way.

Potato Noodles.

Mix two cupfuls of cold mashed potato with one egg and add flour enough to knead into a smooth noodle dough. Roll out to one-half inch in thickness and cut in narrow strips. Boil the noodles for ten minutes in salted water, drain and cool. Then brown them in hot butter and serve them with grated cheese and minced parsley sprinkled over them.

Sour Milk Substitute.

If sour milk is not at hand when making griddlecakes, etc., add a tablespoonful of vinegar to a cupful of cold water and use soda for leavening the same as with sour milk.

Woman's World

The Pioneer Woman Judge of the National Horse Show.

LADY BECK.

The first woman invited to judge at the national horse show was Lady Beck. At the show, which was held in Madison Square Garden, New York, she officiated with Mr. James G. Marshall of the Riding Club in awarding the prizes for unadorned saddle horses of the thoroughbred type.

Lady Beck is an Englishwoman who has ridden to hounds in Leicestershire, as well as in Canada and Virginia. At the last national horse show she rode her own hunters over the jumps in Madison Square Garden.

What she knows about hunters was in evidence at the last international horse show in England, where three horses from her stable defeated the pick of the British entries for the capital prize of the show.

Lady Beck is the wife of Sir Adam Beck, a director of the international horse show. Their home is in London, Ont.

Lady Beck goes in largely for blacks and browns. At the afternoon sessions she wore a brown tailored suit topped with a small high standing hat, encircled with black paradise feathers, and brown fox furs.

Desserts For Children.

Fairy Apples.—Pare and core enough tart cooking apples to fill a baking dish; cover them with sugar and put a little cold water in the dish, also several slices of lemon and two cloves; then pour a little melted butter over the apples and bake them until tender. Serve them cold, with a blob of fruit jelly put on the top of each and whipped cream about them.

Ambrosia.—This delicious dessert requires grated cocoanut, sliced oranges and bananas, sugar and a wee taste of lemon juice. Fill a dish with layers of the different fruits, putting sugar over each one, and continue in this way until the ingredients are all in. Let the dish blend while in a cool place before serving. Fresh cocoanut is needed, and if the milk of the fruit is sweet this may be added to the dessert.

Brown Sugar Sandwiches.—For the children incessantly craving sweets brown sugar is an excellent thing to keep in the house. Spread it thickly on buttered white bread and put the slices together so as to make narrow sandwiches.

Quick Gingercake Pudding.—Get any sort of small or large ginger or molasses cakes from the grocer and cover them with a custard made of boiling hot milk into which several eggs are beaten up. Pour the milk gradually into the eggs, stirring vigorously all the while; sweeten and pour over the cakes, allowing them to stand until they have drunk up a good deal of the custard. Serve warm or cold.

The Polite Mother.

There is but one way to teach good manners to children—good manners, that is, that are worth the practicing and are not mere polish and sham and hypocrisy—but one way, and this is to practice good manners yourself.

All over the land unthinking women are still saying to the casual guest: "How good of you to come!" "Oh, no, you are not late." "Well, it doesn't matter a bit." But to the child it is this old formula: "What did I tell you!" "Don't let me have to speak to you again!" "Thomas, shut that door!" and a hundred other inexcusable crudities.

These inconsistencies of ours rob the child in a hundred ways. They wear upon his nerves as only illogical, irrational, unharmonious and inconsistent things can do. The child brought up in a home of rude, crude manners goes into the world gravely crippled, harmed and handicapped. He has been robbed before he begins his journey.

Capes For the Traveler.

Capes are doubly blessed by the traveler and by fashion, for the need of an auxiliary traveling wrap is great, and the cape aptly supplies it. Capes are being interpreted in many and various ways, some of which are charming, others, speaking frankly, grotesque. Among the first, however, must be rated the delightful examples made with an attractive little waistcoat, fastening with large and distinctive buttons.

Arduous Role.

"I guess it's rather quiet about here, now that all your summer boarders have gone."

"Yes, it is," replied Farmer Cobbles, as he viewed himself complacently, "but there's compensations."

"Yes?"

"I no longer have ter go around dressed up like a regular comic supplement hayseed ter make them city folks think they're gettin' rocal atmosphere."

For the Children

Little Girl Awakening on Christmas Morning.

What a happy awakening for the little girl in bed on Christmas morning! She perhaps had sent a letter to Santa Claus to tell him her needs and desires, or maybe her mamma by skillful questioning had discovered what her daughter hoped the good saint would give her. And so the most wonderful thing has happened, for Santa Claus has brought the very presents the little girl longed for. Isn't it queer how closely Santa Claus guesses what little folks want? He seems to select the very things they like best. Surely he is a wonderfully gifted and kind hearted old gentleman. He rarely forgets his little friends.

Dollie's Golden Crown.

Here's my dearest dollie, dear,
When you get safely down,
Please bring to her, dear Santa Claus,
A bright new golden crown.

Don't wake her up, dear Santa, please,
She's sleeping in her booth;
Be very careful as you put
The crown on dollie's tooth.

She's eat so much candy, poor dear,
It's worn her tooth away,
And every day it aches so bad,
She'll neither eat nor play.

I tied her little handkerchief
Around the aching jaw;
She looks so very bad, poor dear,
The worst you ever saw.

I think it is a shame, I do,
To tell the solemn truth,
There isn't a dentist anywhere
To fix dear dollie's tooth.

But I am sure that you know how,
You good and wise St. Nick,
So please be sure to bring the crown,
And put it on real quick.
—Philadelphia Record.

INFORMAL NEGOTIATIONS HAVE BEEN STARTED

Diplomats Hope to Find Avenue of Adjustment Concerning Ancona Note.

By United Press
Washington, December 14.—Informal confidential negotiation between Austria and the United States to reach a settlement of the Ancona incident were being attempted today. Both in Vienna and Washington official and private conversations were proceeding, supplementing the note sent by this government. By this method both governments hope an avenue of amicable adjustment may be found.

Baron Zwiedinek's conference with Secretary Lansing was the first of several private conferences planned. American Ambassador Penfield is also conferring with Austrian Foreign Minister Burian.

If you have Republican Advertising on your mind, you're right.

Look to Yourself.

There is an idea abroad among moral people that they should make their neighbors good. One person I have to make good—myself. But my duty to my neighbor is much more nearly expressed by saying that I have to make him happy if I may.—Stevenson.

The Retort Courteous.

An Irishman was one day looking at the notice, "Your King and Country Need You." A delicate looking Englishman happened to be passing by and, thinking to have a joke at Pat's expense, started the following:

Englishman—Well, Pat, will you volunteer for the front?

Irishman—Begob, I will if you come.

Englishman—Why do you want me with you?

Irishman—Sure, when the kaiser sees you he will look for peace. He'll think the British are rising from the dead.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

OFFICIAL MEMORIAL MEDAL FOR INDIANA CENTENNIAL

Commission Appoints Miss Janet Scudder to Design Mode—Native of Indiana.

The Commission has authorized the appointment of Miss Janet Scudder, of New York City and Paris, to design the official memorial medal for the Indiana Centennial. The appointment is doubly fitting, not only from the fact that she is probably the most distinguished artist in America for this type of work, but also from the fact that she is a native of Indiana. Miss Scudder is at present designing a commemorative medal for the United States Government to present to the Commissioners who represented South America in the Mexican mediation.

It is the purpose of the Commission that the design furnished by Miss Scudder will be used in the making of bronze Centennial medals. These medals will be works of art and in every way worthy of preservation and will be distributed at a cost at least sufficient to cover the expense of producing them.

Advertising Cuts Selling Cost.

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside we read:

"Buyers of goods, whether advertised or not, often think: Who pays these big advertising bills? When I buy, don't I pay my share of it? Doesn't the advertising cause prices to be higher? Doesn't it all come out of that universal victim—the Ultimate Consumer?"

"This question is answered by an examination of the per cent. of the selling price consumed in the cost of selling on goods which are extensively advertised and those which are not.

"Among the largest advertisers in the country are two great clothing houses that sell men's and boys' clothing. These people who spend fortunes in advertising get their goods from their hands to the shelves of their customers at an expense of from five to six per cent. of the selling price.

"The average cost of selling goods which are not advertised is twelve per cent.

"Instead of being a burden on the consumer, advertising is a boon to him. Advertising takes off his back half of the burden of transportation from the manufacturer to himself. The advertisement is the lowest salaried agent in the world. If this were not true the best business men would not be the greatest advertisers. If there were a cheaper way of getting to the people the news about their goods, they would find it and use it.

For 90c You Can Get the Ideal Gift for Every Man

A crystal glass humidor jar containing one pound of Tuxedo, the mildest, most fragrant tobacco. At every store where tobacco products are sold.

Last Christmas more Jars of Tuxedo were given to men throughout the United States than any other single trade-marked article!

Because Americans are learning to make suitable gifts at Christmas time—and learning that Tuxedo is the best gift of all for a man.

Tuxedo is the mildest, pleasantest pipe tobacco in the world—made absolutely non-biting and delightfully mellow by the original "Tuxedo Process" that has never been successfully imitated.

Last Christmas the demand for Tuxedo humidor jars was so great that the supply of many dealers was exhausted, and thousands of people were disappointed. The safe plan is to place your order with your dealer now. He will be glad to set your jar aside for you until Christmas.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY
111 Fifth Avenue, New York

TUXEDO IS SOLD IN MANY CONVENIENT SIZES:

In Glass Humidors, 50c and 90c In Curved Pocket Tin, 10c
In Tin Humidors, 40c and 80c In Moisture-Proof Pouch, 5c

This Tuxedo Christmas Humidor Jar is beautifully decorated with holly, ribbon and Christmas card, and packed in a handsome carton, for sending by mail or messenger; price complete 90c

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE MEETS TODAY

St. Louis and Chicago are Principal Contenders for the National Convention.

By United Press.

Washington, December 14.—The G. O. P. here today launched its 1916 campaign. The Republican national committee met to select the time and place for the national convention, following the meeting last Tuesday of the Democratic committee.

Presidential booms overshadowed the actual business of the Republican leaders. Political lightning rods were hoisted. Sentiment regarding the 1916 standard bearer was expected to largely crystallize at today's convocation.

In selecting the convention city the committee had before it bids from Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Honolulu.

Bids of $100,000 for the convention with certified checks, were on hand to back up the invitations, with San Francisco bidding $200,000.

It was regarded certain that the Republican convention will be held a week after the Democratic meeting, or about the middle of June. A week may intervene between the conventions.

The G. O. P. mobilization today had many aspects of a reunion of the Old Guard. Discussion of Progressive amalgamation. Prospects of Roosevelt's return to the fold, and overtures to the Progressives were rife.

Much in evidence were Boise Penrose, William Barnes, Jr., Charles B. Warren of Michigan, Senator Smoot, former Governor Saunders of Tennessee, former Senator William Murray Crane and other veteran war-horses.

The committee was also expected to adopt the new convention representation plan, by which delegations from southern democratic states are to be reduced. This plan has been ratified by conventions or primaries of more than two-thirds of the states.

Charles D. Hilles, of New York, former President Taft's secretary, called the committee to order at 11 a. m. Secretary James B. Reynolds read the call. Two or three days, it was expected, would be required to complete the committee's business.

Former Governor Hadley, of Missouri, headed the St. Louis delegation. Senator Penrose was the Philadelphia mainstay. Delegate Kalaniana'ole of Hawaii, Prince Cupid, was spokesman for Honolulu.

Most of the committeemen were present in person today. Only a few authorized proxies. The cynosure of eyes in the lobbies were such prominent Republican leaders as former Governor Franklin Murphy, of New Jersey, Ralph Cameron of Arizona; T. K. Niedringhaus of Missouri; Fred W. Estabrook of New Hampshire; former representative, Charles H. Burke of South Dakota; Alvah H. Martin of Virginia, and Roy O. West of Illinois. Many Republican leaders in Congress, including Uncle Joe Cannon, Republican Leader Mann, Representative McKinley, former Taft campaign manager. Representative Longworth, Senator Lodge, Senator Cummins, Senator Weeks and others were in the lobby crowds.

Retention of present officers, Chairman Hilles, Secretary Reynolds, Treasurer George B. Sheldon and Col. William E. Stone of Baltimore, as sergeant-at-arms, was believed assured. Their successors will be elected after the 1916 convention.

If an eastern man is selected to manage the campaign many leaders declared, Penrose will be given consideration.

Several organizations have applied for hearings before the committee, including both the suffragists and antis. The first fight for delegates to the national convention will be the primaries in Minnesota and North Dakota next March. These are expected to prove political barometers.

Lines of attack upon the Democrats were also formulated. As so far indicated these include: criticism of the Democratic tariff; the Mexican policy; the European policy so far as it applies to injury to American commerce; ship purchase legislation, and alleged failure of Democrats to keep 1912 platform pledges.

Local druggists are having a difficult time in keeping familiar with the changing prices of drugs. Every few days a booklet is issued containing a long list of drugs that are sold for more or less than a few days previous. Most of the changes, however, are advances. The European war is having havoc with drug prices, and the quotations depend upon the quantity of the shipments that are received from time to time, and the output in this country.

HAS NEW LEASE ON LIFE
DOYLE SAYS

Declares Tanlac Relieved Him of Indigestion and Sluggishness.

Louisville, Ky., December 13, 1915.—M. J. Doyle, of 1127 West Jefferson street, this city, says Tanlac taught him to relish his food after he supposed he had lost his appetite permanently. Mr. Doyle is a route man for the Adams Express Company.

"My digestion was all out of shape," he said recently. "It got to be so bad that I ate almost nothing, and didn't enjoy what I did eat. After a meal I felt worse than I had before. Warm weather made me feel worse than I had before. Warm weather made me feel listless and no account, but in cold weather, and especially in damp weather, I was subject to bad colds.

"I dragged along with my work in a half-hearted way. My nerves were in bad shape. I didn't sleep well.

"In the course of my business it was suggested to me several times that I try Tanlac and I decided to do it. The first bottle did me a world of good, and now I feel as though I had a new lease on life. I am glad to tell others how much good this remarkable medicine has done me, in the hope that others may derive as much benefit from it as I have."

Tanlac, the peerless preparation, can now be obtained in Seymour at Carter's Drug Store.

$2.25 Aluminum Griddle For 85 Cents in Cash

Special Offer to Karo Users
Read the Offer and Write Today So As to Be Sure To Get Your Griddle

BY special arrangement you can get this fine 10 1/2 inch Solid Aluminum griddle for less than the wholesale price.

Go to your grocer, get 50 cents worth of Karo and send us the labels and 85 cents and you'll get the Aluminum Griddle by prepaid parcel post.

You know Aluminum ware—you know how long it lasts, how much easier it is to cook with. It doesn't chip, it doesn't rust and it always looks so bright and clean and inviting.

You don't have to grease this Aluminum Griddle, it does not smoke up the house; it bakes griddle cakes and corn cakes crisp and light—the way you want your griddle cakes to be. And the cakes are far more digestible and better flavored.

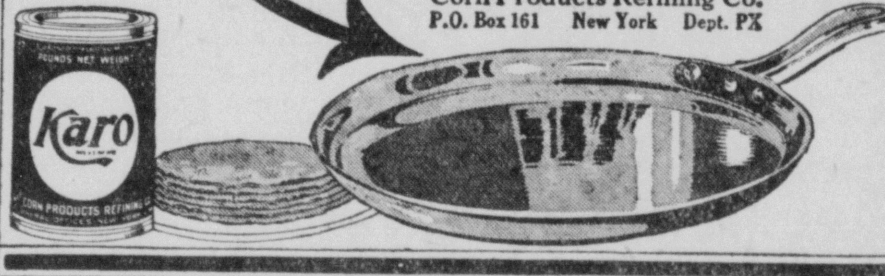

At great expense we are seeking to place a Karo Aluminum Griddle in the homes of all Karo users, so that Karo—the famous spread for griddle cakes and waffles—may be served on the most deliciously baked cakes that can be made.

Last year the people of this country used 65,000,000 cans of Karo—the largest demand ever given any syrup.

That shows you what people who know Karo think of it, how much better they like it than any of the old kind of syrups. Take advantage of this chance to get this solid Aluminum Griddle at a clear saving of $1.40 in cash.

Pyorrhea—the disease nearly everybody has

No matter how sound your teeth may seem to be, no matter how you may scoff at the idea of your having this disease, it is a positive fact that the germ which causes it is working now in your teeth.

The appalling discovery of this fact—that the germ which causes pyorrhea is one which inhabits every human mouth—was made over a year ago. Since then dentists have been urging everyone to take special precautions in their daily toilet to prevent this disease from developing in its acute form of bleeding gums, tenderness in chewing and loose teeth.

To meet the need for such a daily treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste.

Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Senreco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Senreco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25c two oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Senreco at your druggists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Sentanel Remedies Co., 505 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

The Crucial Test.

At an adjourned town council meeting a member casually mentioned that a person could not enjoy or even distinguish between drinks in the dark. A worthy bailie denied this and offered to bet that, blindfolded, he could name any drink given him. The bet being accepted and the bailie blindfolded, the test commenced. The bailie drank everything submitted, smacked his lips and correctly named the drink until the taker was in despair. Then "try him w' water," whispered a councillor, and the hint was taken. Sip—smack—sip—a shake of the head—"I canna just rind the name o' this, but I mind o' tastin' it when I was a wee laddie."

PITCHED A NO HIT GAME.

And Just For That the Manager of the Ball Club Fired Him.

"I'll bet that I am the only manager who ever fired a no hit pitcher right after he established that record," said Bobby Quinn, the veteran business manager of the Columbus American association team. "In the days that Tom Bryce owned the Columbus team he bought the Lima club, then in a bush league. One morning he told me to fly to Lima as fast as the steam cars would carry me. 'They tell me that they've got forty men on the payroll,' he said. 'Get up there and clean 'em out before they break me.'"

"Up I goes and finds that they had only thirty-eight, all eating three square meals a day. A little grand jury work brought out the fact that some of them had never played professionally before and about ten of them had no shoes, gloves or uniforms. Most of them had not even practiced, because there wasn't enough equipment to go round. I couldn't get them all into a room, but we assembled in the park, and I chased over half of them."

"The next day we were to have a game at Van Wert, and the bush manager wanted to ship the whole gang over. 'Nothing doing,' said I. 'Pick out about a dozen.' En route it was fixed up to let Iron Mountain Miller, one of these big, awkward bushers, do the pitching. 'He's a bearcat,' says the manager. 'Uncage him,' says I."

"I got up in the grand stand and watched him perform. He had nothing, not even a wrinkle on the ball, and those Van Wert guys just laid back, and, wham, you could hear 'em whistle. Alex Reilly, out in center, caught sixteen line drives, and the two other fielders were pulling them down against the fence and making one handed catches after running a quarter of a city block. They laid down between innings to rest."

"Well, Iron Mountain shut them out without a hit or run, and the buttons flew off his shirt. After supper I fired him. 'What! Fire me,' he howled, 'after a no hit game? Didn't you hear all the people talking about it?' 'Yes,' says I, 'I heard them talking about it, but I saw it. On your way.'"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

They Pegged the Hole.

Lord Coleridge was once the victim of the varsity men at Oxford. He was addressing a large audience there when he used the phrase: "We must remember not merely the beauty of the individual colleges, but the beauty of Oxford as a whole. And what a whole it is!"

"Hear, hear!" yelled the varsity men. "Yes, what a hole!" they groaned. "What a beastly hole!" Then it dawned upon Lord Coleridge that this was a thing he would rather have expressed otherwise.—London Tit-Bits.

Somehow Good.

Oh, yet we trust that somehow good
Will be the final goal of ill,
To pang of nature, sins of will,
Defects of doubt and taints of blood;
That nothing walks with aimless feet,
That no one life shall be destroyed
Or cast as rubbish to the void
When God hath made the pile complete;
That not a worm is cloven in vain,
That not a moth with vain desire
Is shriveled in a fruitless fire
Or but subserves another's gain;

Behold, we know not anything.
I can but trust that good shall fall
At last far off—at last to all—
And every winter change to spring.

So runs my dream. But what am I?
An infant crying in the night,
An infant crying for the light,
And with no language but a cry.

—Alfred Tennyson.

No Reciprocity.
Karl Wellman pitches for one of the St. Louis teams in the big leagues. As might be guessed from his name, he is German.

"Say," demanded an opposing batsman one day last spring, "why don't you go back to Germany and fight for the fatherland?"

"Who, me?" demanded Karl. "Not on your life! Did the kaiser send anybody over here to help me last fall when I was pitching in all those tough double headers?"—Saturday Evening Post.

A Bit of Correspondence.
The following correspondence, ending in true Irish fashion, actually passed between two men in England some years ago:

"Mr. Thompson presents his compliments to Mr. Simpson and begs to request that he will keep his dogs from trespassing on his grounds."

"Mr. Simpson presents his compliments to Mr. Thompson and begs to suggest that in future he should not spell 'dogs' with two gees."

"Mr. Thompson's respects to Mr. Simpson and will feel obliged if he will add the letter 'e' to the last word in the note just received, so as to represent Mr. Simpson and lady."

"Mr. Simpson returns Mr. Thompson's note unopened, the impertinence it contains being only equalled by its vulgarity."

Two Different Effects

The quality of food is very largely determined by the ingredients in the baking powder with which it is made. Cream of tartar baking powders, such as Royal, add only healthful qualities to the food.

The cream of tartar of Royal Baking Powder as used in food has the same wholesome effect on the digestive system as the cream of tartar in grapes, from which it is derived.

On the other hand, it is in evidence that objectionable mineral residues exist in food made with alum or phosphate baking powders.

There is a clause on baking powder labels which names all the ingredients. Read it and let it guide you.

ter." Two weeks later.
Act III—Yard of Portia's Home. One week later.

Before an audience that was all too small, considering the fact that the east was made up altogether of local talent, "Mary Jane's Pa" was presented at the Majestic last evening. Evidently everyone is too busy either buying or making Christmas presents, or getting ready for the glad event, to have any time left for shows. This fact was made evident last week, when a first class road attraction played to a small house, and it was made more than ever evident last night.

Those who did go, however, were rewarded with very creditable presentation of this well known comedy. The parts were all well taken, the principals all did good work, the humorous dialogues were well carried out, the stage settings were exceptionally good, and with it all was that good natured, liberal appreciation and indulgence that is always granted the efforts of a home talent cast. Everybody laughed and applauded, and enjoyed the evening, which is, after all, the only true test of the success of any stage production—unless it be tragedy or even worse, a problem play.

"Mary Jane's Pa", the picture of small town politics, newspaper life, social ambitions, with a story of heart interest in the life of Mrs. Perkins, editor of the Clarion, who deserted by her husband, is forced to make a living for her children, into which is woven the touch of the typical characters which are to be found in Gosport, where the scene is laid, or any other small town, while not a new plot, is nevertheless cleverly arranged and an entertaining story and it lost none of its quaintness or humor in the hands of the amateur actors last evening.

To mention those whose work added to the enjoyment of the evening would be but to go over the entire cast, for all did good work. The production, which was coached and directed by Arthur J. Beriault, of the Conservatory of Music, was the first offering of the new Dramatic Club, an organization which hopes to arouse an interest in amateur dramatics by presenting plays of general interest from time to time.

A meeting of the club, together with all who are interested in the furtherance of the movement, looking towards the production of Every Woman and other high grade attractions, will be held Monday evening, Dec. 20th, at the Conservatory of Music. All who are interested in the work are urged by Mr. Beriault to attend.

AUCTION SALE—Four farms, Wednesday, December 15th at 10:00 a. m., six miles northwest of Columbus, known as the Rhodes, Dillman and Gelfins farms, all in the same neighborhood. The sale starts on the 120 acre farm, known as the Rhodes farm, where a free lunch will also be served. Attend this big auction sale if you want a bargain. The soil on these farms is all a sandy clay. The Purdue University prize was given a Bartholomew corn grower last year, the five acres yielding 113 bushels per acre and this corn was grown on sandy clay. The 120 acres has very little rough land, has a good 7-room house and large barn. The 40-acres has a good 5-room house, small barn, nearly all level, bottom land; will make someone a fine little forty acre home. The 65 acres on dirt road, buildings are not very good, but with some repairs will make someone a good farm. 184 acres, good 4-room house, fairly good barn, large orchard, with considerable bottom land. This will make somebody a good stock farm. Terms will be easy and made known on day of sale. Free transportation, on day of sale, from Irvin's Bank in Columbus, up to 9:30 a. m. Write for a circular with a picture of each farm and full particulars, to Orin Jessup Land Co., Tipton, Ind. R. C. Foland, auctioneer. d9w-10-11-13-14d
